

Thoughts from the brotherhood of Brother George Garrison

By the Brotherhood

I had the opportunity to have an almost daily morning conversation with him about various subject, mostly about the Frat. I remember once I just stopped hearing from him. I didn't know why.....then I heard he passed. I learned later he had been sick for a while. But I remember the Brother never told me that he was ill during our conversations. Never complained about any sickness.

Brother Garrison was a grate undergraduate adviser who was very knowledgeable and had a good sense of humor. Brother Bibby was a High School friend, outstanding line brother, and a fabulous human being.

Brother Garrison was a Brother of wisdom and leadership. When we found the chapter he was instrumental in our growth and development. Brother Wilson was a devoted brother to our beloved fraternity. He was serious about the business of Omega. Brother Clarence Bibby was a dear friend and advisor. He was truly a scholar, and problem solver. He was committed to developing the minds of our youth. Bro. Whitaker was passionate about Omega. He gave his all to the principles of Omega. He and Brother Bibby left us too soon.

Brothers Garrison was our advisor and was a brother who was a good listener and cared about KH brothers being the best they could be academically and personally.

Douglas Edwards KH 76

Garrison was one of my college advisors, Bibby pledged me, Wilson and Whitaker pledge with me with the exception of Leroy Wilson pledging with Eta Pi who was our advising chapter. All four of these brothers influence me in my college experience and life. All four of these brothers left this world too early. I pray that we will see them again!

My thoughts on Brother George Garrison were he seemed like a man of high integrity in everything he did. He was our advisor-coach. I always felt Brother George Garrison was mentoring all of us, as well removing obstacles when necessary, and helping navigate us to get our chapter on a predominately Caucasian catholic campus and university.

Thomas Clark Jr. KH 75

Bro. Garrison was a member of Omicron Chi chapter and I have had many opportunities to discuss things outside of frat life and just talk about life in general. He was not only a brother but a father figure to me and many other brothers in the chapter. All of these good chapter brothers were truly thoroughly immersed in the true Omega Spirit and if it weren't for any of them, I (we) wouldn't be celebrating our 40th anniversary. So I thank them for all that they have done to pave the way for us all. Friendship is Essential to the Soul!

Bro. Garrison was one of our prudent advisors, as well as a Founding Chapter Brother. He kept us in check!
